

Bungaree Off-site store

Or adding to the great Australian shed collection

Since purchasing the former Railway Station yard at Bungaree in 1997, the Museum has built a number of storage sheds, the latest being the large green one in the left middle of the aerial photo. The rail line is now closed.

This shed was jointly funded by VicTrack for tram storage in order to free up storage at East Block at Newport and the Museum itself. It will hold some 25 Trams.

Lifting the completed structure with roof using four cranes.

There are five separate tracks with a tram right at the back.

Installing pallet and storage racking in the 2010 built shed that had been used for tram storage. This will also be used for COTMA parts storage.

Fire Protection water storage tanks.
